"Experience you can build on"

CAPABILITY STATEMENT (DEVELOPERS / PRINCIPALS)

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Peter Goodhew established Goodhew Construction Services in response to a clear and growing need within the industry for specialised construction consultancy. Peter is committed to partnering with Developers and Principals to achieve successful project outcomes through shared knowledge, effective communication, and meticulous administration. With over two decades of hands-on experience in the construction industry, our team is uniquely positioned to collaborate with Developers and Principals, ensuring projects are delivered smoothly and efficiently. By focusing on expert design and project management, clear communication, and robust contract oversight, we work together to navigate the complexities of project delivery, fostering a collaborative environment that benefits all stakeholders.

Key Differentiators

Builder-Side Expertise:

With 23 years of experience working for a leading construction company, I bring a unique perspective as someone who has been on the builder's side of the fence. This insider knowledge allows me to anticipate builder tactics, identify potential risks, and position clients for success. My deep understanding of how builders operate ensures that subcontractors are always one step ahead.

Unmatched Attention to Detail:

I am known for my meticulous attention to detail, which ensures that no opportunity is missed and no risk is overlooked. From contract reviews to financial analysis, I leave no stone unturned in protecting clients' interests and maximising their profitability.

Holistic Project Understanding:

My career spans every phase of construction—from estimating and contracts administration to project management and senior operations. This end-to-end expertise allows me to provide comprehensive solutions that address both immediate challenges and long-term goals.
